THTEREST PAYING PLAN:

novel system of Life Insurance te-IISJOYAFMU TUALLEF E

By this system, Life Insurance is furnished at as little cost as by the usual plans, and the policy hol er receives an annual interest of seven per cent upon all the meney paid by him to the Company; his annual premiums thus extering him as usual as government bond.

The plan has been thoroughly criticises and fully indorsed by the most eminent actuaries and skillful mathematicians in the land; indeed he has not yet been the subject of unfavorable mention in any respectable quarter.

See remarks made by Benjamin Traverse, F. R. C. B. Speaking of those diseases, and diseases arising from the excess of mercury, he states that no remedy is equal to the Extract of Sarapparilla, its power is extraordinary, more so than any other drog I am acquainted with. Esteemed Friend—I congratulate you on having the handsomest and at the same time the Most Effective Piil that I have ever known for the

H. T. Helmbold will remark in conclusion, that Most Effective Pill that I have ever known for the purposes intended. WM R. WARNER & CO H. T. Helmbold will rema k, in conclusion, that his remeales are the result of long and careful study. The Fluid Extracts have been before the public twenty years. The sale of them in that time proves their value. All have been benefitted by them who followed my instructions, and to-day they stand maequalled in the extent of their sale, and unequalled in the extent of their sale, and unequalled in the extent of their sale, and unequalled in the extent of their sale, and unerpassed by any medicament in the Dispensatory of the United States, not excepting a single Herb, Root, Plant, or Scientific Preparation.

Pharm-accutical I claim all mine to be, and have never patented a single one.

To dispel any impression or prejudice that might exist in the minds of many against my preparations, from the publicity given through advertising, and that I am and have been a drug glat for a period of twen y years, and more conclusively to preve this see fetter from the largest manufacturing chemists in the world:

I am a quainted with Mr. H. T. Beimbola; he occupied the drug store opposite my residence, and was successful in conducting the business where others had not been equ lly so before him. I have been favorably impressed with his character and enterprise. William Wight Man. Firm of Powers & Wightman, manufacturing chemists, Ninth and Brown streets, Philadelphia.

The Pill I have thought of offering to the afflicted for ten years.

They are new perfect, and I shall stake my time, meney and fame on their effectiveness. The inviting style in which the pill itself is made, the bottle, lakel, wrapper—all show with what care they have been prepared. After examination, no registed or French preparation will show greater care, and I am really proud of them.

Instead of the nauscous-looking, carclessly prepared Pills vended generally, and put up in wooden boxes, and made generally, or offered by those having to experience as physicians, draggists or manufacturers of medicines, test the medicine offered by your obedient servant,

CURRENT NEWS.

Tad Lincoln has been seriously ill in Nearly a thousand persons have visited the Yosemite Valley this season.

Mrs. Laura Fair shows no change of pirits or health since sentence of death has been passed upon her. The internal revenue department has decided to reduce the number of assistant assessors to 14,000, being 1,000 less at the end of the fiscal year, on July 1st, than at its commencement.

The new law requiring the names of steamboats to be painted in white letters on a black ground, is about to be enforced by the Treasury Department.

The International Typographical Union s now in session in Baltimore. Two ladies are on the floor, Miss Mary Moore from New York, and Miss Augusta Lewis, corresponding secretary of the Union.

The ravages of small-pox in London continue to increase at a fearful rate. About two weeks ago the number of deaths in one week was two hundred. The populace are much alarmed, and there is a loud call for universal vaccination.

Preparations are being made for the immediate commencement of work on the new railroad between Baltimore and Chicago. The road will be an air line from Chicago to Pittsburg, where it will connect with the Centerville road, striking the main stem of the Baltimore and Ohio at Cumberland, Maryland.

POLITICAL.

Ex-Senator Warner has concluded to accept the appointment of Governor of New Mexico.

Hon. Joshua Van Sant has been unanimously nominated for Mayor of Baltimore by the Democratic and conservative convention of that city. The election takes place in October.

In the opinion of Mrs. Elizabeth Cady Stanton, post-masters and other federal officers should be elected by the people of the district where they are to serve. That astute lady says the President would not then be able to give offices to all his relations, or to sell them out in exchange for horses, houses, dogs and cigars.

CHICAGO.

Bishop Whitehouse Defled by Dr. Tyng

CHICAGO, June 5 .- Rev. S. H. Tyng, Jr., Mr. Cheney, had previously received a note from Bishop Whitehouse, notifying him of Mr. Cheney's deposition, and re-minding him of the canon torbiding participation in services with a deposed clerticipation in services with a deposed clergyman. Mr. Tyng paid no heed to the letter, but preached both sermons. Mr. Cheney reading the morning and evening service for him, and the two gentlemen uniting in administering the eucharist. The congregation was the largest ever assembled in Christ Church in the evening. even the chancel and vestry were crowded, and hundreds of people were obliged to go away and when he had found him, he said unto him, dost thou believe in the Son of God?" asy other drug I am acquainted with. It is, in in the strictest sense, a tonic, with this invaluable attribute—that it is applicable to a state of the state of t stead. At such a time of apostacy from Christ, and his Truth, it is a blessing to be excommunicated, for, among cast outs of the church are to be found the ones of Christ. This passage was received with applause, which Mr. Tyng immediately checked, reminding his auditors that they were in the church of God, and not a lecture room. Mr. Tyng concluded by ex-horting his hearers to hold fast to the old

[From Harper's Bezar.]

The spring and summer suits worn by gentlemen to church and on dress occavest, and lavender pantaloons. The coat is a Newmarket, a trock-coat, longer than that of last season, made to roll low, and duck vest is cut low and double-breasted. The easy-fitting pantaloons are of doeskin, with fine twill and soft nap, or of striped

There is no change in the suit worn for full dress. It still consists of a black swallow-tail cost, black pantaloons, and a white vest rolled very low to display an mbroidered shirt tront.

During business hours gentlemen wear entire suits of dark Scotch mixtures in stripes, the merest line of white on black, brown, or gray grounds. The coat is in the Nawmarket shape, either single or double breasted, with pockets and flaps. For general use at this season, a frock that of diagonal cloth, either black or dark blue, will be found useful in a gentleman's outfit. The vest accompanying is of striped Marseilles, white, with a light pencil line of black or dark blue. Gray pantaloons complete this coatume. Traveling suits are of the Scotch cloths, either plain grey or striped, made with sack or frock coat, buttoned high. Vests to match, with collars.

Shirt fronts continue in the styles last

Shirt fronts continue in the styles last quoted, viz., plain double linen, or one or two wide plaits each side of a box-plaited centre. Ruffles, puffs, horizontal tucks and full gathered shirt fronts are not worn.

The English standing collar, with turned down points in front, is much worn at present. Von Beust is the name given to the style most used. For summer the preference will be for deep turned over collars, quite large, and worn very low at the threat in Byron fashion.

Stripes are in favor both for scarfs and made up neckties. Of ready-made-up ties the Windsor is now the only shape worn. The knot is smaller and the ends narrower than in the winter tie, showing more of than in the winter tie, showing more of the shirt front. Plain blue or black, or else striped with white, are most in favor Scarfs of twilled Indian silk, cut bias, and a yard long, are now common property, interchangeable between husband and wife, as those worn by gentlemen are selected out of the same case at the furnishing stores from which ladies make their choice.

The summer hat that will soon appear on the promenade is of pearl-colored cas-simere, with bluish tint. The crown, not quite as tall as last year's style, is six and a-half inches high, and has a light band of repped ribbon, fastened by a small buckle on the left. The curved brim rolls high on the sides, and bus a binding to match the band. The black silk hat now worn is of the shape just described. Un-dress hats of dark cassimere have half-igh round crowns. Shoes for summer are of the low cut, Oxford shape, tied on the instep in a dif-ferent fashion from the Moliere slice lately worn. The toes are bread, heels low, and the ample soles show at the sides. Comfort and symmetrical shape are considered, but there is evidently no attempt to make the foot look small. The shoe for full dress is a congress gaiter of glove kid, with single sole.

in the case of Littlefield, one of the jurors who condemned Mrs. Pair.

William MacNamara, a special policeman, made affidavit, which was read, to the effect that he had heard Littlefield say at the time of the shooting of Crittenden by Mrs. Fair that if he were a juror in the case he would

On being examined for a juror he stated that he had formed no opinion, and had no bias either way.
Mr. Littlefield presented a counter affinying the whole statement o

Mac Namara.

The counsel for the defence argued at length on the motion for the new trial on the ground contained in the affidavit

IMPECABING THE JURORS. Messrs. A. M. Beach and D. E. Littlefield: also on the question of jurisdiction on the bill of exceptions. On the conclusion of the argument for defence, the Judge, still seated, went on to say that he had given the matter careful consideration. ful consideration, and would be glad to have the least doubt as to THE JUSTICE OF THE VERDICT

The prisoner had every advantage the law could give. The case, that shoulp have been tried in ten days, occupied a month. In the case of the jurors he did not think they had formed a direct opinion, merely a newspaper impression, and TO BE EXCLUDED FROM BEADING NEWS-we never could get a jury. As to the qualification of the juror, Beach, he did not think the testimony contained in the affidavita sufficiently to the point to disqualify him. His character for repsectability was amply testified to.

In the case of the other juror, Littlefield, it is simply and affidavit against one man who says he did.

The Judge further said it was hard to make any court believe that men of re-

TO PASS THE SENTENCE,

the saddest duty of my life.

Mr. CAMPBELL-1 resume my motion for judgment upon the verdict.

Mr. Cook—I ask permission to file on Monday my grounds of exception nanc

THE COURT-Laura D. Fair, you were indicted by the grand jury of the city and county of San Francisco for the unlawful killing of Alexander Crittenden. That indictment was sent to this court for trial.
You were furnished with an impartial jury. You were ably defended by counsel. The jury pronounced you guilty.
Have you any legal cause to show why the judgment of the court should not be pronounced upon you?

PROPOUND SILENCE reigned in the court, broken only by the sobbing of the prisoner's mother and of the ladies who sat by her. The prisoner sat with her face buried in her hands, but otherwise composed and motionless, and made no response. After a few moments' pause the Judge. pause the Judge.

WITH TREMBLING VOICE, said:—"The Judgement of the Court is that on Friday, the 28th day of July next, you, by the Sheriff appointed, be hanged by the neek until you are dead, and may God have mercy on your soul."

THE SCENE IN THE COURT ROOM during the remarks of the Judge and the delivery of the sentence was one of intense excitement. The room was not crowded, few supposing that the case would be closed to-day. The prisoner, while the Judge was speaking, watched his face eagerly. When he said he saw no ground for a new trial she bowed her head in her mother's lap and wept bitterly, but succeeded in a few minutes in recovering her composure. A number of ladies were present, all of whom wept on the sentence being pronounced.

After adjournment of the court the prisoner's mother, Mrs. Lane, confronted the reporter present, saying, with great excitement and anger:—

"Now you have got what you wanted, haven't you? You have got her hung. I hope it gives you joy."

With difficulty she was pacified. The prisoner, on leaving the court, bowed to the reporters and officers of the court, saying she forgave all. She asked the Sheriff ing she forgave all. She asked the Sheriff to prevent her jailor, a man named Kelly, from handcuffing her and chaining her to the floor of the cell, as he had threat-ened to do. The Sheriff assured her he would allow no such treatment.

The excitement in the street was intense Hundreds of people were waiting to Fr pass to her carriage.
